Arnold Morgado

"Mufi Hannemann understands sound fiscal management practices and has proven he is up to the job."

Walter Dods

Mufi Hannemann has a strong record as an executive level administrator, both in the private sector with C.Brewer, as Director at DBEDT and as CEO of the city's multi-billion dollar operating budget.

In the trying times that Honolulu faces we must continue to have experienced executive leadership that we can rely on. Mayor Hannemann's opponent is well-meaning, but has a background only in legislative operations within government. This isn't enough to manage the 12th largest city in the United States in challenging economic times, where bold, decisive and consistent leadership is critical.

Mayor Hannemann has proven this during the past four years by restoring Honolulu to a sound financial footing.

- He increased the City's rainy day fund by 400%.
- Earned the city an upgrade in its bond rating.

- Cut the visioning team program which once cost $39 million every year.
- Cancelled $3.1 million in old purchase orders and closed out more than 175 contracts, some over a decade old, worth a total of more than $29 million.
- Saved $2 million in workers comp costs with improved safety programs.
- Maintains a tax-exempt commercial paper program that is secured with top AAA rated German banks.
- Received clean audits and for the first time in 10 years the City was named a low-risk auditee.

In times like these we need the solid, experienced and responsible leadership of Mufi Hannemann...more than ever!
